Sun Was Shining In State

Missouri Recovering From Ice Storm; Small Tornado In Charleston

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15—(P)—Missouri was recovering today from its fourth ice storm this year.

The sun was shining and generally clear weather was forecast for all of the state today and tomorrow.

The Missouri highway patrol reported high water of the South Grand river had closed route 13 south of Clinton. The backwater blocked 127 and the south lane of US 40 at Sweet Springs. Route 3 north of Clifton Hills also was closed by high water.

Ralph Aldrich, river forecaster here, said the South Grand was six feet above flood stage at Browning, below Clinton. The river there was not expected to go much if any higher.

The Osage river was three feet above flood stage at Shell City. The Missouri was virtually at a stand at Atchison with a stage of 22.5 or 2.5 feet above flood stage. The river was falling from Kansas City to Jefferson City today and will be falling all the way to St. Louis tomorrow.

Flood Threat Gone.

The threat of flood on the Black river in southeast Missouri was dissipated today after the crest of the second high water this year passed Poplar Bluff last night. All major highways in that area were clear of flood water after rainfall totaling 4.16 inches since Saturday.

Rain and freezing rain fell in the last 24 hours in south-central and eastern sections of the state with the greatest precipitation, 2.15 inches, reported at St. Charles north of St. Louis.

Other rainfall reports: Richmond 1.89; Jefferson City 1.50; Mountain Grove 1.50; Vichy 1.47; Springfield 1.41; West Plains 1.09; Clinton 7.3; Lebanon 7.1; Marshall 2.7.

The lowest temperatures reported last night were 6 above at Tarkio, 10 at St. Joseph and 12 at Kirksville.

Windstorm Near Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Mo., Feb. 15—(P)—A windstorm, described by farmers as a "small tornado," struck in a rural area about 7 miles northeast of here at shortly before last midnight causing rather heavy property damage but so far as could be learned no one was injured.

At least a dozen farm buildings were either wrecked or damaged by the twisted and on the Goodin Brothers farm two mules were killed when a barn collapsed.

A large storage building on the Pete Drinkwater farm, where he keeps new farm machinery for his store, was wrecked but he does not believe the equipment was damaged to any great extent.

Mrs. Sam C. Goodin said several tenant buildings were "toppled over" in the community where she lives but the occupants so far as she could learn, were uninjured.

Buildings Damaged.

Several buildings on the Henry Stallings farm were damaged.

Electric lines in that area were broken and power had not been restored 12 hours later.

Two other farmers, Harry Johnson and Ernest Moxley, reported considerable damage to buildings on their farms by the windstorm.

The tornado followed rain which totaled more than six inches since Saturday night and which covered thousands of acres of level farm land south of Chariton.

The town of East Prairie, about six miles from here, was flooded and isolated today. It was estimated this morning that two-thirds of the town was under water which measured up to two feet in depth. Most of the business district, however, is on high-er ground.

Lightning Strikes Plane Enroute

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 15—(P)—Lightning struck one of a mass flight of B-36s enroute to Washington early today, but the big ship limped safely back to Carswell Air Base here.

The plane quivered as a blinding flash of lightning struck its right side at 7:50 a.m. (CST), as it cruised at 19,000 feet in northeast Texas near Texarkana.

Fifteen other planes in the formation, described as the largest flight of B-36s to date, continued on to Andrews Field for a "fly-by" over the heads of Congressmen.

The bolt of lightning put the ship's radio system out of order. The plane turned and made for home. There were no injuries and only slight damage.

Wait-and-See Attitude on Appointees

'No Gambling' States St. Louis Police Board Head

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15—(P)—The president of the newly appointed St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners said today that gambling will not be tolerated in St. Louis and that all laws will be strictly enforced.

The three daily newspapers here adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward Gov. Forrest Smith's appointees to the four-man board, which must be confirmed by the state senate.

Daniel P. Reardon, attorney named as president of the board, was asked to comment on rumors which started during Smith's campaign last summer that a revival of gambling might be permitted here.

"The gamblers definitely will not be allowed to operate," Reardon said. "Their operation would be in violation of the law. Every law will be strictly enforced, so far as it is humanly possible to do so. That is our intention as a board, and as individuals."

Post Dispatch Editorials

The Post-Dispatch said in an editorial that the announcement of the new board "dashed any lingering hope the public might have had that the governor would appoint four men of the very highest standing" and added:

"We hope that the big-shot gamblers who are preparing to move into St. Louis will be barred, xxxx under the close scrutiny of the public, as this board will be in its policies and police appointments, it may be that it will be an excellent job. If so, we will be the first to take off our hats. But the community has to be shown."

The Star-Times said the statements by both the governor and the new board president "read well."

Doing Something Is Different

"Being against sin and crime is easy enough," the Star-Times said. "Doing something about them is something different. And on the record of actions the new board will continue the high standards set by their predecessors or justified by the fears of apprehensive St. Louisans."

The Globe-Democrat said "it is not an outstanding board, but is satisfactory." The newspaper termed the new board members "the governor's answer to his critics—those who say that St. Louis will be 'wide open' under the new regime—and his prestige will rise or fall as they perform."

Kiwanis Club In California

Others from Sedalia attending the meeting were: Bert Hathaway, Pinkney Miller, A. H. Wilks, Ray Hunt, Kennie Miller and T. H. Yount. Division VIII of the Missouri-Kan-Ark District, now has 13 clubs: Bonville, California, Centralia, Columbia, Fulton, Jefferson City, Mexico, Moberly, Rolla, Salem, Sedalia, Wellsville and Versailles.

Chillicothe Without Power, Business is at a Standstill

CHILlicothe, Mo., Feb. 15—(P)—All electrical power went off here at 4:38 a.m. today after a short circuit at the municipal light and power plant. At 11 a.m. it was still uncertain when power would be restored.

Business was virtually at a standstill. Many stores closed and sent their employees home.

Candles were used for lighting at the local hospital and business place, which were open.

Many homes with gas furnaces were without heat in the sub-freezing temperature. The electrically-operated thermostats were out of use.

The short circuit, in a sealed cubicle where the main feeder line leaves the plant, was followed by an emergency power.

An REA unit, the Farmers Electrical Cooperative, serving 400 farms, was affected.

There was no fire. The feeder line fur-

Arrest United States Woman On Spy Charge

Moscow Reports She Will be Sent From Soviet Union

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(P)—American officials appeared puzzled today by Moscow's announcement that Anna Louise Strong, American writer, is being deported from Soviet Russia as a "spy".

She has long been regarded here as pro-Soviet. Last summer when she was in this country she was an active supporter of Henry Wallace's presidential campaign.

Some officials said privately they suspected the Moscow action might be a ruse to return the writer to the United States with added prestige among anti-Communists because of her expulsion from Russia.

Records list Miss Strong's age as 64 and show she has been in and out of Moscow since 1921.

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, Feb. 15—(P)—The Moscow press announced today that Anna Louise Strong, well-known American author and correspondent, had been arrested on charges of spying and will be deported.

Records list Miss Strong's age as 64 and show she has been in and out of Moscow since 1921.

She was listed as representing the Allied Labor News.

The Soviet newspapers disclosed her arrest in the following announcement:

"The well-known intelligence operator, the American journalist, A. L. Strong, who got into the U.S.S.R. as a consequence of the carelessness of certain foreign relations officials, yesterday was arrested by state security organs."

To Be Sent Out

"Miss Strong is accused of espionage and undermining activity against the Soviet Union. They report that in the next few days she will be sent outside the boundaries of the Soviet Union."

The deportation of the 63-year-old writer leaves the following American correspondents in Moscow: Eddy Gilmore and Thomas P. Whitney for the Associated Press; Henry Shapiro for the United Press; Joseph Newman, New York Herald-Tribune; Edmund Stevens, Christian Science Monitor; and Andrew Steiger, Overseas News Agency.

"We hope that the big-shot gamblers who are preparing to move into St. Louis will be barred, xxxx under the close scrutiny of the public, as this board will be in its policies and police appointments, it may be that it will be an excellent job. If so, we will be the first to take off our hats. But the community has to be shown."

Post Dispatch Editorials

The Post-Dispatch said in an editorial that the announcement of the new board "dashed any lingering hope the public might have had that the governor would appoint four men of the very highest standing" and added:

"We hope that the big-shot gamblers who are preparing to move into St. Louis will be barred, xxxx under the close scrutiny of the public, as this board will be in its policies and police appointments, it may be that it will be an excellent job. If so, we will be the first to take off our hats. But the community has to be shown."

Doings Something Is Different

"Being against sin and crime is easy enough," the Star-Times said. "Doing something about them is something different. And on the record of actions the new board will continue the high standards set by their predecessors or justified by the fears of apprehensive St. Louisans."

The Globe-Democrat said "it is not an outstanding board, but is satisfactory." The newspaper termed the new board members "the governor's answer to his critics—those who say that St. Louis will be 'wide open' under the new regime—and his prestige will rise or fall as they perform."

Married A Russian

Miss Strong, who married a Russian, Joel Shubin, in 1932 but continued to use her maiden name, is the second American correspondent in a year to be charged with spy activities.

Robert Magidoff was ordered to leave Russia in April 1948 when Izvestia published a letter from his secretary, Cecilia Nelson of Michigan, accusing him of spying.

The letter said Magidoff, correspondent for NBC, Exchange Telegraph and McGraw-Hill Publishing company, had received instructions from McGraw-Hill to collect certain information on underground construction. McGraw-Hill explained that the charges were based on "routine news assignments" sent to Magidoff.

For Propaganda Purpose

Magidoff said he believed his expulsion was for internal propaganda purposes.

Miss Strong has been in Russia most of the time in the last 28 years, and is known as the author of a score of books and articles which gave her the reputation of being strongly leftist and pro-Russian. She also has traveled widely in China and central Europe.

On the other hand, the feeling in Washington long has been that it is economically impossible to keep a global defense line uniformly strong. For that reason, according to the view here, the main strength must be centered on Europe.

The same board is now investigating a dispute between the roads, represented by the eastern, western and southeastern carriers.

The driver, George Dodge, 33, suddenly collapsed in a faint. His body, in falling, brushed against the wheel, and the vehicle headed toward the ditch and public utility pole.

Dick, a fourth grader, remembering what his father had taught him about driving, grabbed the wheel. He headed the bus straight down the road for about 400 yards, and then deliberately swerved it into a snowbank.

The boy said he knew the engine would stall when it hit the snow, and, sure enough, it did.

No one was injured.

Rained a Cow In England

BRISTOL, England, Feb. 15—(P)—Raining cats and dogs is nothing. At John Toot's house it rained a cow—right through his kitchen ceiling.

The cottage is built into a hillside and one of the eaves to the ground on the slope side.

The cow chomped her way through Toot's terraced cabbage patch. She stepped on the roof.

Trot brushed off the broken dishes, smashed roof tiles, pulverized mortar and splintered furniture. He recognized his visitor as Daisy, the property of neighbor Jack Cave.

Trot took his back door off the hinges, sh

Oklahoma is Tops in the Big Seven

Last Half Rally Gave Sooners a 47-45 Victory

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—(P)—The Oklahoma Sooners are on top of Big Seven conference today, vindicating their pre-season basketball tournament championship. A last half rally and a successful freeze gave the Sooners a 45-45 victory over Nebraska last night at Norman, Okla.

Nebraska's First Loss

The loss was Nebraska's first in conference play, against five wins. Oklahoma has lost only to Kansas State, but has won six league games.

Oklahoma rallied from a 26-22 halftime deficit to stop the Huskers.

A couple of bounce passes from Paul Merchant, Oklahoma guard, to Captain Paul County who converted both tied up the game at 43-all. Wayne Glasgow followed with another basket and Kenneth Pryor and Merchant contributed free throws to make it 47-43. Claude Rutherford ended the scoring with a Nebraska goal in the final seconds.

Rutherford was the game's individual star, racking up nine goals and two free throws. Oklahoma won the game at the free throw line, picking up 17 points there compared to Nebraska's 11. Four Huskers fouled out in the second half.

Ends Victory String

Nebraska's loss ended a victory string of eight games achieved after going through the pre-season tournament in Kansas City with only one win in three games. The Sooners won the tournament and were immediately tabbed the conference choice for the regular season. But until last night they had to be satisfied to trail the Huskers.

Missouri, in third place with a 3-2 record, tries to edge a notch closer to Nebraska tonight when Kansas invades Columbia, Mo. Kansas defeated Missouri in the pre-season tournament and also bounced the Tigers in their first regular meeting this year.

In one of the major upsets of the season, Ohio State conquered St. Louis university 68-60 last night. Dick Schnittker hit 22 points and teammate Bob Donham 24 for the winners.

The defeat was the second of the season for St. Louis. Oklahoma

There was no stopping Kentucky, again the No. 1 outfit in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Old Kentucky just flexed its muscles and the University of Alabama promptly bowed by 74-32.

Aggies Bounce Tulsa

Hank Iba's Oklahoma Aggies, the third ranking quintet in the nation, experiences almost as little difficulty as Kentucky. The Aggies bounced all over the University of Tulsa, 58-35, and further strengthened their hold on the lead in the Missouri Valley conference.

There's no end in sight for their loop skein, either. The Aggies have won six straight this season and 21 in succession since their last defeat in midseason in 1937.

Only two other teams in the first 10 of the AP poll saw action and both came through as expected. Western Kentucky, at No. 7 with a 20 and 3 mark, trifled with Murray State Teachers of Kentucky, 73-54 and Bowling Green, tenth, emerged with a close 59-56 victory over Marquette.

Starved Elk Had No Fear

WALLACE, Idaho, Feb. 15.—(P)—Deep snows may starve them but in their hearts the proud bull elk still are the lords of Idaho's forests.

This is how one of them died.

The crew of a freight train found him lying between the tracks. The big bull was gaunt and clumsy with weakness. He showed no fear, though, when the train rolled up to him and stopped.

The brakeman and fireman got down to frighten the elk off the track. The bull reared unexpectedly to his feet and chased them back onto the train.

The crew tried to pry the elk off the track with a 10-foot steel carbon rod. He wouldn't budge. They tried to scare him with a signal flare but he wouldn't scar.

Then they rolled the train slowly ahead. The elk squatted on the locomotive foot board and used his front feet to hop along with the slowly moving engine.

When the crew stopped to plan another maneuver, the exhausted elk lay down again between the rails. The trainmen attacked again. One pined the elk's head down with a carbon rod while the others pried him off the track.

The train pulled past him. The crew jumped aboard the caboose as the big bull staggered back to his place between the rails again.

He was still there next day when a passenger train struck and killed him.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(P)—When Marcel Hansenne made his first visit to the United States, he seemed to think it was more for social contracts than for competition. . . . The results were about what you'd expect. . . . This winter the AAU decided he wasn't a big enough attraction to rate a full-time tour, so what happened? Marcel arrived just in time for Saturday's Baxter mile, protesting that he wasn't ready for such a tough race, and only did 4:10.3 behind Willy Slykhuis. . . . When he drops to the 1,000 yards in the AAU championships this week, Hansenne should have just a breeze unless Sweden's Ingvar Bengtsson picks the same race.

As for the three-mile, well, Fred Wilt, best of the Americans, is an FBI man. What else could he do but trail somebody?

Hospitality Note

Clair Bee, fast-talking Long Island U. basketball coach, returned from his recent western tour raving about the swell treatment his squad received at Oklahoma A. and M. . . . "They beat the heck out of us," says Clair, "but when we were ready to leave, the mayor of Stillwater and the entire town escorted us to our plane. They fed us sandwiches and coffee, patted us on the backs and said: 'Now kick the heck out of St. Louis.' . . . And Long Island very nearly did."

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(P)—Kentucky continues to convince the basketball experts that it is the best college team in the country with a dozen straight victories since its December loss to St. Louis university.

The fifth weekly Associated Press poll gives the Wildcats (20-1) a wide edge over runner-up St. Louis as the season approaches the tournament stage.

Of the 84 writers and broadcasters participating, sixty-four picked Kentucky for the No. 1 spot. Only 13 preferred St. Louis, which led the poll for the first two weeks. It is the third straight time Kentucky has been out front.

The Oklahoma Aggies, only previous conqueror of Saint Louis, cling to third place by a slender seven point margin over Illinois, Oklahoma university smothered the Aggies, 54-41, Friday in a major upset.

William F. Brown, Pettis county prosecuting attorney, was the guest speaker at the Sorosis meeting Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial club house. Mr. Brown made an informative talk on "The Trial of Christ from a Lawyer's Viewpoint," in which he gave the historical facts of that trial, quoting both the Bible and historians.

There have been many great trials in history, Mr. Brown said, but that of Christ was of the high tribunal of both Heaven and earth. Tried before the Great Sanhedrin, the supreme council and tribunal of the Jewish people, that trial had 12 distinct errors, Mr. Brown said. The high priest sat with the scribes in front of him and the Prisoner stood so all could see him, the speaker said,

Cool, Quivery Meal

A jellied meat loaf is so cool and quivery it makes you cool just to look at it! Besides that, it is ideal for summer eating and for buffet meals 'round. Contrasting accompaniments, such as hard-cooked eggs and crisp relishes, are a good accompaniment.

jellied meat loaves are just the place to do it. Flowers, modern designs, borders—anything you want can be yours in a jellied loaf. The principle is much the same as in preparing an upside-down cake. The foods which will appear on the surface of the loaf (or ring or square), after it is unmolded, are placed in the pan first, then held in place by a small amount of the gelatin.

There are ever so many foods you can use to make the design: slices of olives, pickles, hard-cooked eggs, carrots, and many other foods. Or perhaps you'll want to use fresh or canned fruits. Arrange the design in the bottom of the pan, then add a small amount of the jellied mixture. Or dip the foods in gelatin, then place in position. Chill until firm and add the remainder of the loaf.

Another interesting effect is achieved by jelling the loaf in

Two Shot To Death On Train

MONTREAL, Canada, Feb. 15.—(P)—The bodies of a Toronto attorney and a woman companion, clad in night clothes, were found shot to death in a sleeping compartment of a train which arrived Monday from Toronto.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, who conducted an autopsy, said it was a case of murder and suicide.

He said Earl Fauman, 39, shot Mrs. Martha Leonia Kelly, 28, in the head and then turned the revolver on himself.

Mrs. Kelly, a native of Detroit, was the wife of Inspector Frank Kelly, head of the Criminal Investigation Branch of the Ontario Provincial Police in Toronto. Fauman also was married. Both had children.

The revolver, with two bullets fired, was found in Fauman's hand beside the bodies in the compartment bed.

A second revolver, not discharged, was lying on the compartment floor.

The bodies were discovered when the porter and sleeping car conductor could get no response from their compartment as the train reached Montreal outskirts.

WICHITA, Kas., Feb. 15.—(P)—Federal agents joined Monday in search for William John Andrews, Jr., 30, former carnival worker charged with murder in the trailer death of a retired Kansas farmer.

A fugitive warrant was sworn out before U. S. Commissioner Ralph Gilchrist by an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Earlier—at Wichita and at Wellington, Kas., first degree murder charges were filed against Andrews, wanted in the death of Roy C. Woolf, 69, formerly of Cheney, Kas.

Woolf's body—bearing bullet wounds and the skull crushed by heavy blows—was found early last Thursday in his blazing trailer, parked at the side of a main highway between Wellington and Wichita.

Charges were filed both here and in Wellington, in Sumner county, because officers said it was not definitely known whether Woolf met death in Sedgwick or in Sumner county.

Currency Services provided for a fee so-called "bondified" post-card checks and "bondified" money orders to clients who do not have bank checking accounts of their own. In operating, chiefly in St. Louis and its suburbs, the company had some 170 agents, including Service Exchange company, another party to the suit.

The agent would provide clients with checks, usually ranging from $1 to $100 for the principal amount plus a fee. The checks would be backed by the account of Currency Services in a St. Louis bank. Then the agent would turn over the principal amounts to the parent company plus 60 per cent of the fees. The remaining 40 per cent would be retained as the agent's commission.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practises, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power-mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth to success in many fields.

Strangely, he says that this power works best while we sleep, when proper methods are used.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mental-Powers, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 189-J, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

On Feb. 10 the war department finally released the long secret and fabulous story of Russian spies in Japan and how they were aided by two Americans in obtaining innermost Jap secrets several years before and up to Pearl Harbor. Though now first printed in many papers, this was not news to Washington Merry-Go-Round readers for, on Dec. 21, 1948, Drew Pearson published the same story, naming names and giving the exact details regarding this secret spy ring.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—State department officials have certainly put themselves on the spot in the senate. They have let a group of Republican senators pick up the state department's own policy on Indonesia and demand that it be carried out.

This can be the first serious foreign-affairs rift of the new Truman administration.

What makes things embarrassing for the state department is that its own delegates to the United Nations took the lead in opposing Dutch aggression against Indonesia. The Indonesian statement of Dr. Philip Jessup, U. S. delegate to the UN, was one of the most masterful ever delivered.

It set an example to the world. Behind his forthright denunciation of Dutch aggression was the knowledge that once the peace machinery of the United Nations is weakened it will become as flabby as the old League of Nations.

And in Indonesia, the Dutch were just as brazen in thumbing their noses at UN peace efforts as the Jap warlords in Manchuria did at the league.

But after the state department took this fine public stand, several Democratic senators drafted a resolution supporting it and going one step further. They wanted to cut off Marshall plan aid to Holland, which actually has financed the Dutch army in Indonesia.

When the state department got wind of the resolution, however, Bob Lovett, then acting secretary of state, phoned majority leader Scott Lucas of Illinois, asking him to lay off. The resolution, he said, must be blocked.

GOP Grabs Ball

Lucas, somewhat against his better judgment, did so. Obediently, the Democratic senators pulled in their horns — on the promise that new secretary of state Acheson would come up to the senate and explain his view on the resolution.

Senator Lucas pointed out that Acheson had just become secretary of state and might not agree with retired under-secretary Lovett, so it was only fair to hear him. Therefore the Democratic senators waited — and waited — and waited some more. Acheson did not show.

Finally, state department counselor Chip Bohlen telephoned to say that Secretary Acheson would not come at all. Instead, he, Bohlen, offered to explain things to the senators.

By this time, the senators were hopping mad. When a dozen leading Democratic senators ask for views of the secretary of state it is customary for him to appear before them. And when they are courteous enough to hold up a resolution at his request, his appearance is considered mandatory.

That was why Democratic senators refused to hear Bohlen, said they would hear Acheson or none.

While the Democrats were being obedient Democrats, however, the Republicans picked up the ball. They introduced a resolution identical with that prepared by the Democrats, supporting the state department's stand against the Dutch in Indonesia, but asking the state department really to carry out its words by cutting off the American ECA subsidy to the Dutch colony.

The republican senators who got behind the resolution are Bridges of New Hampshire, Brewster and Smith of Maine, Butler and Wherry of Nebraska, Baldwin of Connecticut, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Malone of Nevada, Langer of North Dakota and Morse of Oregon.

They intend to make a major attack on the administration, whether it's a Swiss or American movement, we have the genuine parts and the "know-how."

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller

Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, qui show winners of an expensive trip, are visited by an armed man, Homer Anglin, and they dress for dinner in their cottage. Anglin leaves, saying he made a mistake. John Henry, who is a Queen of Diamonds, on which was written "Your deal," was left outside John's plate. He and Sin dine in an exclusive restaurant. John Henry, the manager, Mr. Barcelou, search for the waiter just as Anglin comes in, fatally wounded. John Henry goes to Johnny. "You already got it," and dies. Barcelou seems very anxious to learn what Anglin told Johnny, but Johnny doesn't tell. When the Conovers return to their cottage, they find the lights burning and the door unlocked. Then they enter and Sin screams.

A GIRL was sitting in the big chair that faced the door. Her round eyes were ponds of friendly curiosity. Under them, softly prominent cheekbones slanted into a tiptilted nose. She was young, with a lily-smooth face and black hair swept up over small ears and an ivory-tinted neck. Trim legs were doubled up under her and one porcelain fist rubbed back and forth against her round slight chin.

"What the dickens," said John Henry, "are you doing here?"
"Yes," said Sin definitely.

The girl didn't get up. She had a small sultry mouth that seemed about to laugh and squeal "Ooh!" at the same time. It curved a little more and said, "You're trying to scare me. Somebody told you I like to be scared."

The Conovers looked at each other. Nobody was making faces or anything. John Henry said, "Well, that doesn't answer much of my question, Miss—"

The girl kept smiling, half-velling the bright eyes. Her voice came carressingly from way down charging the state department with delivering fine phrases before the United Nations while playing footsie with the Dutch aggressors under the UN table. And it looks as if they were right.

Gratitude Gifts

What different state are doing with their Gratitude Train gifts:

New York City converted the veterans' center into a virtual museum, tastefully displayed the French gifts in showcases. Thousands lined up to see them. Massachusetts will conduct an essay contest in high schools on French-American friendship, giving non-fiction gifts as prizes to winners.

Ohio will mount its 40-and-8 boxcar on wheels and tour it throughout the state. . . . The mayor of Parkersburg, W. Va., offered to do the same in West Virginia, but some people in Charleston are demanding that it stay there. (The French people want every one in the state to see the boxcar and the gifts, if possible.) . . . Boston is placing the gifts on display in department store windows prior to distribution. . . . Chicago's museum of science and industry will display the 40-and-8 boxcar for a month, together with the French gifts, after which they will be taken around the state. . . . Some states have offered high schools chances to display gifts, provided manual training classes build proper glass cases for display.

Merry-Go-Round

President Truman has placed his entire domestic program in the hands of secretary of agriculture. Charles Brannan, an able citizen. All members of the cabinet have been told by Truman to take orders from Brannan in testifying for the Truman domestic program. On the legislative front, Brannan is now assistant secretary of state. . . . Testifying before the senate interior and insular affairs committee on territorial affairs, congressional delegate A. Fernandes of Puerto Rico reported there wasn't a single breach of the peace when Puerto Rico elected its first governor last November. The people accepted the verdict of the polls, said the Puerto Rican delegate.

"How different from the people of the United States," commented Chairman Joe O'Mahoney. "We rejected the polls." . . . After

Mr. I. J. Rhoads, president, was in charge of the meeting, which was opened by repeating the club collect. The Lord's prayer was repeated in unison. Roll call was answered. "What I Do When I Wish I Please." The club voted a donation to the March of Dimes. Miss Dilsaver gave an illustrated talk on pasteurization and undulant fever. The president reported on the council meeting and the club voted its disapproval of comic books and radio crime stories.

The members are requested to bring clothing to be remodeled at the next meeting.

After the business meeting, hostess gifts were presented to Mrs. Berry. A valentine exchange was enjoyed by all and the members' baby pictures were displayed.

Meyers Appeal Is Lost

General's Petition For Review Is Dismissed With No Comment

By Don Sanders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(AP)—The supreme court rejected Monday former Major General Bennett Meyers' appeal for a review of his conviction for inducing another man to lie under oath.

Meyers, former Army Air Force purchasing officer, had contended that his trial was "a subtle mockery, a travesty and a sham." He is now in the District of Columbia jail, where he has served 11 months of a 20-month to five-year sentence.

The high court dismissed his petition without comment.

It also cleared the way for new proceedings in the complex and farreaching dispute over whether the states or the federal government owns oil-rich submerged lands off the coast, commonly called tidelands.

Oral arguments were called for on a request by the department of justice for permission to file suits seeking to establish federal control over submerged lands off the Texas and Louisiana coasts.

No date was set, but arguments may be held early in April.

Court permission is required because Attorney General Clark seeks to bring original suits—that is, suits started in the supreme court without prior proceedings in the lower courts.

The high court ruled 6-2 in June, 1947, that the U. S. has "paramount rights in, and full dominion and power of over," submerged oil lands off the California coast. The government

Teachers Seek Boost In Pay
Pleas Made To Committee For State Colleges

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15—(AP)—Pleas to restore the purchasing power of teachers at Missouri's five state colleges to the 1939 level were made to the House appropriations committee Monday.

Roy Ellis, president of Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield, presented figures to the committee showing the salary average of the college teachers has risen 50 per cent in the period between 1939 and 1948.

"But the cost of living has risen 74.5 per cent in this same period," Ellis said.

He pointed out that the budget for salaries of teachers at these institutions had been submitted to Gov. Forrest Smith on that basis. He asked the House group to restore the cut made by Smith in the salary items at each of the schools.

Ellis and W. W. Parker, president of Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, spoke for all five colleges, although presidents of the other schools were present.

Parker explained the budget for each school had been worked out in a general conference by all the schools.

He cited large classes and the resulting lack of contact with students as a reason for appropriating more money for the schools.

Not Meet Salaries

He said the colleges could not hire the teachers they wanted in many instances because they could not meet salaries paid by comparable or even smaller colleges in Missouri and other states.

The amounts from general revenue asked for by the colleges:

Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville asked $138,805 more; Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville asked $138,662 more; Central

Valentine Party By Lions Club

Lions Club members, their wives and guests attended the annual Lions Valentine party held in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell hotel Monday night. Following the dinner, a social hour was held.

Carl Urban was chairman of the entertainment.

Missouri State College at Warrensburg $205,474 more; Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau asked $155,102 more; Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield asked $178,224 more.

Also appearing was Sherman O. Scruggs, president of Lincoln university for Negroes at Jefferson City. Scruggs asked for sharp increases for the university and for the Negro vocational school at Dalton.

"We could have many more students if we had room and space for them," he said. Scruggs added it took more funds to get these requirements now.

He asked for an increase of $660,000 for Lincoln over the $1,275,000 as set out in the appropriations bill. His increase asked for Dalton was $228,500 more than the bill allotment of $67,500.
